

Home Catering Selection

Throughout a lifetime, everyone has their troubles. Big problems and small. We each have our fear, our grief, our hassle. The thing is, our troubles were local and unique. It was easy to walk away from our drama, at least for a moment, because everyone else had something else they were dealing with. For the last two months, that hasn't been true. For anyone. We get it, no one can avoid talking and acting in reference to the pandemic. With every interaction, the story gets amplified, hashtags, memes and all...

*So, while waiting and hoping for better days, we prepared a home-catering selection to try and continue doing what we love. We priced it as reasonably as we could, offering you large portions and our own free in-house delivery if you stay* close enough to us. We decided to waive our service charge so you could continue to experience our delicious casual Mediterranean comfort food, prepared from fresh proximity ingredients.*

Bon appétit!
